Life Together and Welcome

Call to Worship (The Singing Church #637)

“A new commandment I give to you, that you love one another; even as I have loved you, that you also love one another.

“By this all men will know that you are my disciples, if you have love for one another.”

He who says he is in the light and hates his brother is in the darkness still. He who loves his brother abides in the light, and in it there is no cause for stumbling.

But he who hates his brother is in the darkness and walks in the darkness, and does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded his eyes.

See what love the Father has given us, that we should be called children of God; and so we are.

The reason why the world does not know us is that it did not know him.

Beloved, we are God’s children now; it does not yet appear what we shall be, but we know that when he appears we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is.

And every one who thus hopes in him purifies himself as he is pure. We know that we have passed out of death into life, because we love the brethren. He who does not love remains in death.

By this we know love, that he laid down his life for us; and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.

But if any one has the world’s goods and sees his brother in need, yet closes his heart against him, how does God’s love abide in him?

Little children, let us not love in word or speech but in deed and in truth.
